Unqualified Support From British Empire: Washington To Give All Possible Supplies

YUGOSLAVIA AND GREECE ARE THE VICTIMS OF THE LATEST ACT OF AGGRESSION BY GERMANY. STATES A LONDON MESSAGE ADDING THAT THE ONLY EXCUSE THE GERMANS HAVE TO OFFER IS THAT BRITISH TROOPS ARE ALREADY IN GREECE. From all over the world messages have been received in London expressing horror at this latest wanton attack by the Nazis. NO OFFICIAL DECLARATION OF WAR AGAINST THE TWO COUNTRIES HAS BEEN MADE, AND NONE IS LIKELY.

Belgrade, the capital of Yugoslavia, was bombed yesterday morning and afternoon and several fires were started particularly round the railway station which was reported to be burning. It will be recalled that Belgrade. Zagreb (the Croat capital) and Loubljana were to be declared open cities in the event of war.

Belgrade has practically no direct communication with the outside world and the radio has been off the air since the first dramatic announcement that the capital had been raided.

LONDON AND WASHINGTON HAVE MADE IT CLEAR THAT ALL POSSIBLE AID WILL BE GIVEN TO YUGOSLA-VIA AS IS BEING GIVEN TO GREECE IN THE GALLANT DEFENCE OF THEIR INDEPENDENCE AND INTEGRITY. Yugoslavia will receive unqualified support from the British Empire and the United States Government will supply to the invaded Balkans all the help she can give.

LONDON, APR. 6 (REUTER)-BRITAIN'S DECISION TO AFFORD ALL AID TO THE LATEST VICTIMS OF AGGRESSION OPENS OUT A NEW AND IMPORTANT PHASE OF THE WORLD WAR.

Herr Hitler has now precipitated what he was most anxious to itself to destruction by mines or warfare against England, but on the other hand, the whole of this immense line must be vigilantly guarded by German troops.

Today's News Summary

YUGOSLAVIA AND GREECE were invaded by Germany early yesterday morning the Nazi excuse for their action being that British troops were already in Greece. Belgrade was bombed both in the morning and afternoon and several fires were started. All possible aid from the British Empire and the United States will be given to Yugoslavia as is being rendered to Greece. The Germans are meeting with stubborn Greek resistance in the Struma Valley.

AFTER A VERY STEADY and speedy advance, British troops have now reached Addis Ababa, the capital of Abyssinia. On Friday the R.A.F. and South African Air Force had carried out heavy raids on Addis Ababa scoring direct hits on hangars and aerodrome buildings.

ENEMY AIR: ACTIVITY over Britain on Saturday night was on a small scale. During the past week, no less than 12 German aircraft were shot down over England.

YUGOSLAVIA AND THE Soviet Union have signed a pact of friendship, and non-aggression whereby the independence and territorial integrity of each country is respected. The agreement will be for five years and is to be ratified in Belgrade shortly.

RUSSO-YUGOSLAV PACT: OF FRIENDSHIP

MOSCOW, Apr. 6 (Reuter)—A Russo-Yugoslav pact of friendship and non-aggression was signed by M. Molotov, the Foreign Minister, and M. Gavrilovitch, the Yugoslav Minister in Moscow.

Exchange of instruments of ratii fication will take place as soon as possible in Belgrade, it is added. The Yugoslav-Russian pact says the decision to conclude the pact was taken by both who decided the preservation of peace was important to them. They pledged themselves abstain from aggression towards each other, and respect the independence, sovereign rights and territorial integrity of each other. If one was subjected to aggression by a third State, the other pledges to preserve the policy of friendship.

The treaty will remain in force for five years and come into force from the date of signature, and for a further five years if it is not denounced in the meantime.

The latest news from Abyssinia provides "the best evidence that the Italians are" finally cracking up in East Africa," declared the British military spokesman in Cairo, says Reuter.

BEASSURING NEWS

News from Libya is reassuring. This was the comment in London military circles on the latest news from the Libyan front.

It is believed that tanks, which the Germans and Italians have concentrated in Libya, have been arrested by stronger British forces than those which fell back from Benghazi in face of enemy advance.

But there is no tendency in London to regard the latest news as meaning a deliverance from the German threat.

"YOUNG PEOPLE"

Shirley Temple Scores Another Hit

Chock full of fun. songs and dances, "Young People," the 20th Century-Fox film which stars Shirley Temple, Jack Oakle and Charlotte Greenwood, gave audiences at the King's Theatre rollicking good time yesterday. "Young People" is Shirley Temple's twenty-second picture and it is her happiest hit. In it Shirley sings five grand tunes written by Mack Gordon and Harry Warren: "Fifth Avenue," "Tra-la-la-la," "I Wouldn't Take a Million," "The Mason-Dixon Line" and "Young

Jack Oakie is at his best in a thoroughly humorous role while Charlotte Greenwood is leaner, lankier and funnier than ever.

The film has a stirring and surprising climax which caps the unusual story. The outstanding performances were directed by Allan Dwan, who worked from a superb screen play prepared by Edwin Blum and Don Ettlinger.

Arleen Whelan and George Montgomery turn in exceptionally fine performances in the romantic leads, while Kathleen Howard excells as the small-town school teacher.

The Germans had been responsible for working on the idea and planes is a special matter; because adopting it for their own army, the machines may be travelling When Russia attacked Finland used parachute troops, it proved almost an entire failure. The Germans had tried it in Norway and "had

"It was in Holland", continued the speaker, "that the use of parachute troops proved most successful. The main attacks with these troops were made on The Hague and on Rotterdam. Of course, all over the country there was a well organised Fifth Column and the Germans had achieved their object by the effect on the civilian population of this delivery of men by air."

The speaker declared that these parachute troops really formed the silently, hand-to-hand. advance of other air-borne forces carried in troop carrying planes. They landed and held some points until these other forces arrived.

SATISFACTORY RESULTS "The Germans at least were satisfied" with the results", continued the speaker, "and ever since at preparing a large air-borne army, not by a battalion at a time, but by a division to be carried by troop-carrying planes and gliders."

The speaker declared that if the use of these troops was Herr Hitler's secret invasion weapon, they must be prepared to take advantage of it and to take every step to destroy this war worshipping section of the enemy's forces.

"The men have to be picked specimen keen, determined and intelligent. When they are landed everyone has to give the best account of themselves.

PHYICAL FITNESS "The parachutist, therefore, is a daring and clever man. Physically parachute is like jumping a tenfoot wall. It is as if he is jumping on to the moving deck of a ship with a strong wind blowing.

'The actual jump out of the along at two miles a minute. The art of jumping in quick succession means hours of careful drill."

The speaker, said that careful obtained particular piloting of the machines was also inecessary. The men of course lalways wore uniforms, but they had special boots and helmets which protected them when they landed and an outer overall which was worn outside everything to ensure that their equipment did not catch in any part of the plane. Their weapons were specially selected according to the kind of job they had to do when they landed. Sometimes they might have to fight rapidly at short range, like gangsters, sometimes

EXTREME VULNERABILITY No heavy arms were carried by the troops themselves, as far as the Germans were concerned, but these were dropped separately. This showed the extreme vulnerability of the men as they landed. If therefore the Germans landed then they have worked feverishly these men, the speaker appealed to his listeners not to shoot until

BOMBING IS MEANS OF ATTACK, SAYS AIR EXPERT: LAND & SEA CO-OPERATION NECESSARY

"A few days ago an announcement was made that the R.A.F. had dropped a new kind of bomb on Germany and that this new bomb was more effective than anything else used before," said MAJOR OLIVER STEWART, aeronautical expert, when he broadcast from London on Saturday, on the war in the air.

"This brings up the old question of the limitation of bombing and how much damage bombing can do in war,' continued Major Stewart.

NOT A SIMPLE PROBLEM "We have had a good deal experience in bombing and being bombed. I have heard people say that they could win this war solely by bombing. They say that if we had several large bombers and drop a large number of bombs we proceeding. One bomb of a small could beat Germany.

"I do not share in this belief," said Major Stewart. "It is true we are building up our bombing fleet and probably the Germans are doing likewise. It is also true that we have this new and effective bomb, but it is also true that this country is still subjected to attack from the air.

"This question of dealing with it is not a simple industrial problem or simply a matter of turning out more planes. It is also a technical problem. To organise air attacks in this way an air force must be very large"and well equipped."

AERODROME CAPACITY

Major Stewart said that in ordinary peace time am airport was only able to handle about one machine in ten minutes. Even if this time was reduced to four minutes. the traffic capacity of an aerodrome would be limited to 120 machines in eight hours.

"That gives you an idea of the capacity of a service aerodrome under war conditions." said Major Stewart. "There are eight hours of darkness so that the probable number of aircraft which could use an aerodrome may, easily be less than 100. To give even that traffic average demands a high organisation of ground staff and the absence of technical troubles.

"In war that does not happen. There are always difficulties, Enemy aircraft may come over and bomb an aerodrome, and there are a hundred things that may reduce it to half of its capacity.

"A bombing force that can strike a mortal blow at a country wili require an enormous air force. So I think that a

MR. EDWIN HAWARD ON ARMY "INDIANISATION"

Edwin Haward, Adviser on Indian Affairs, Far Eastern Bureau of the Ministry of Information, said that the limitation of recruitment to selected types had been convenient, but it would be idle to pretend that it had fitted in with the political views of the new India. That was understandable. However satisfactory the results in the production of fine soldiers and keeping a steady line between the Army and the districts from which recruits came, the Indian Army found its interests concentrated in a comparatively few areas in civil life.

PROGRESS MADE

'The progress made' with the "Indianisation" of the Army (that is the flow of Indian King's Commissioned Officers to that Army; has assisted in making this radical change with the minimum amount of difficulty. It may also be remembered that the modern soldier has to learn so many different things that the recruiting officer can well throw his net

The effect of this will be to bring the Army more into touch with the people than ever before The new Commander-in-Chief has stressed this by pointing to the magnificent achievements of the Indian Army and by asserting that the day when that army could be regarded as apart from the rest of the Indian nation has passed.

The Frontier problem is complicated by the fact that between a certain strip of the Frontier proper and the administrative border there is a "no man's land" where dwell tribesmen split up into clans with no common leadership: bound loosely together by their Pathan blood and their allegiance to Islam. After describing the attacks, the ommunique says: "Perhaps as important as the bombing were the ummy runs made repeatedly over the ships causing them to take ontinuous avoiding action which lowed up the ships' run for home." After the battle six Sunderlands coured the sea and saw the glassy lediterranean covered for miles ith oil in which were about 100 afts, lifeboats, wreckage and swimning men.
